

Definition of Done for User Stories

Mat3D (Matrix Masters)

All of the following must be completed in order for a user story to be “done”:

1. All tasks relevant to the user story must be “done” according to the “Definition of Done for Tasks” document.
2. Upon the completion of the final task, the person responsible for the last task’s completion should notify the team over slack on the #general channel.
3. The entire team should review the tasks necessary for the user story’s completion. Deliberation on whether the user story relevant task(s) constitute a complete user story will commence.
4. Take a moment. Breath in and relax (for not too long).
